Nottingham & Singapore Breast Pathology Masterclass

Advances in Breast Pathology Diagnosis and Classification

Led by Course Directors Professor Emad Rakha and Professor Puay Hoon Tan, the Nottingham & Singapore Breast Pathology Masterclass is designed to strengthen diagnostic precision and alignment in breast pathology.

Focusing on challenging diagnostic areas and the latest developments in tumour classification, the 2026 Masterclass brings together an international faculty of world-renowned experts, including members of the WHO editorial board and contributing authors.

The series offers the most up-to-date, evidence-based insights in breast pathology:

- Part I – 14 May 2026: Foundational updates and key developments
- Part II – 24 September 2026: Builds upon and completes the updates introduced in Part I.

Participants may choose to attend either session individually or both for a comprehensive learning experience.
